Word's goin' 'round this little mountain town
You're leaving again
(Got your) Bags packed with red dirt and blue sky
Keeps you from wandering

We know this time
You'll make it all worthwhile
What holds you in line
Are the memories that keep you running back like –
Sunday morning
Coffee with Emily

Your head's filled with big ideas
You're tired of whispering them on the wind
You'll make it in that big dirty city
We'll say we knew you when

Cuz' we know this time
You're gonna make it all worthwhile
And what holds you in line
Are the memories that keep you running back like –
Sunday morning
Coffee with Emily

Your friends are waitin' for you at the bar
To say their goodbyes
They're laughing 'bout how you're always leaving
Then running back misty-eyed

And they know this time
You're gonna make it all worthwhile
And what holds you in line
Are the memories that keep you running back like –
Sunday morning
Coffee with Emily
